Project Title	Sustainable Ecology Fishpond Management Agreement Scheme
Target Site	Ma Tso Lung and San Tin
Project Brief *	The northwest New Territories is a crucial part of the East Asian-Australasian Flyway, where around 60,000 waterbirds spend their winters. This project collaborates with fishermen in San Tin and Ma Tso Lung to conserve migratory birds through pond draindown and pond profiling. We will work with experts to gather data that enhances pond management, balancing bird conservation with the needs of fishermen. Additionally, we plan to raise awareness about conservation and Hong Kong’s fisheries through guided tours, workshops, and competitions, fostering a deeper public understanding of these initiatives.
